

HASHIT

Run No: 1692

Hare: HandJob/Dead Ringer

Where: Glenoak

When: 4 February 2008

After another lovely patch of rain on the weekend, the weather was fine and mild last Monday, excellent conditions for hashing. Down down Glenoak Drive we went finding the first check and false trail, with Pink Bits detouring into a neighbouring yard.

It was rather a scenic hash with many interesting homes to look at, although you had to look quickly as we set a mean pace. From behind came a virgin runner which made us all look and exclaim "who the f... is that".

I could not spot Nowra at first but that was because he was up ahead in disguise, pretty in pink, oh well maroon, close enough. Hampered by his sling Dude resorted to walking, and he and the Brute ticked me off for not talking. Hey guys, I was flat strapped just keeping up.

After a circuit of Glenoak the trial veered dangerously close to home. With beer in sight it was no surprise that most of the walkers became cheaterers, all except Dude who wanted more trail.

Back at the circle there were several contenders, with the Trail Master on his mobile trying to locate next week's run. Duncan nearly got to drink out of Dead Ringer's shoe for turning up to his maiden hash without his runners, but DHOTW definitely belonged to Pink Bits for her disappearing act.

Hash Trash

Ipswich Appeal

Hurricane Shazza hit Ipswich in the early hours of Monday 26th November 2007. Victims were seen wandering around aimlessly, muttering 'Faaackinell'.

The hurricane devastated the area causing approximately $30 worth of damage. Three areas of historic burnt out cars were disturbed. Many locals were woken well before their Centrelink payments arrived.

The Ipswich Times reported that hundreds of residents were confused and bewildered and were still trying to come to terms with the fact that something interesting had happened in Ipswich.

One resident - Tracy Maree Sharon Britney Madonna Smith, a 15-year-old mother of 5 said 'It was such a shock, my little Chardonnay-Mercedes came running into my bedroom crying. My youngest two Joachim and River slept through it all.'

Apparently, looting, muggings and car crime were unaffected and carried on as normal. The Australian Red Cross has so far managed to ship 4,000 crates of Bacardi-Breezers to the area to help the stricken locals. Rescue workers are still searching through the rubble and have found large quantities of personal belongings, including Health Care Cards, Jewellery from Kmart, and Bone China from Big W.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

This appeal is to raise money for food and clothing parcels for those unfortunate enough to be caught up in this disaster. Clothing is most sought after - items most needed include: flannelette shirts, tight blue jeans or spandex, singlets (blue & white) white sport socks, Ugg boots and any other items usually sold in Priceline or The Reject Shop. Food parcels may be harder to come by, but are needed all the same. Required foodstuffs urgently needed include: Microwave meals, baked beans, Ice cream, Chips, Fizzy drinks. Donations of $15.00 will be taken to buy a packet of winny blue 25s and a lighter to calm the nerves of those affected.

**Breaking news****

Ipswich Uniting Church has cancelled their local 'Nativity Display' due to their inability to find three wise men or a virgin. Please don't forward this to anyone living in Ipswich - oh, stuff it, they won't be able to read it, anyway!
